

International Update

- India - ~500 CCAs, Tecnova – evaluating for future
- Mexico – ~10 CCAs, considering a firm to help determine the best business structure and to set up office
- Argentina – still on hold due to political situation

Eligibility to Vote on Board

- Currently:
  - Be a CCA
  - Be on a local board
  - Be the local board Chair or their designee
  - Cannot be a paid person (administrator/staff person)

Eligibility to Vote on Board

- Proposed from Florida - Remove the CCA requirement
- Reasoning
  - Florida believes that a state or regional Board member, regardless of whether they hold a CCA certification or not, should have the opportunity to vote on behalf of their state or region when they are attending the meeting as that state or region's designated representative.
  - “The Florida Board is a mix of CCAs and non-CCAs and we do make every effort to send a CCA-holding Board member to the meeting – but schedules don't always allow for a CCA to attend. We'd still like a vote which is why we're asking for the change.”
